DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-8 and 10-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

In claims 1, "any fluid remaining in the substantially entire length of the passageway is caused to be expelled" is not supported in the specification with "the resiliently deformable wall member ... configuration in which at least a portion of the internal fluid flow passageway is closed".

In claims 28-30, the limitations of claims 28-30 are not supported in the specification, and are not able to make "any fluid remaining in the substantially entire length of the passageway is caused to be expelled" as defined in claim 1.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-8 and 10-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is confusing or impossible for "any fluid remaining in the substantially entire length of the passageway is caused to be expelled" with "the resiliently deformable wall member ... configuration in which at least a portion of the internal fluid flow passageway is closed".

5. The indicated allowability of claims 7-9 are withdrawn in view of a new reference.

Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-3, 5-12, 21, 24-26, and 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kurokawa et al. (EP 747292). Kurokawa et al. disclose, in figs.1 and 34, a nozzle arrangement comprising a body 16 including an inlet, an outlet, an internal fluid flow passageway from the inlet to outlet; an actuator portion 15; a resiliently deformable wall member 61 substantially defining the length of the fluid flow passageway to open and close the passageway in response the operation of the actuator portion; wherein the body is formed of two interconnected parts with abutment surfaces; the resilience of the resilience of said resilient deformable wall member increasing proportionally with increasing distance from the outlet (the thickness of the wall member 61 is tapered toward the outlet).

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
